

Psalm 139 Project

The Psalm 139 Project will work only with centers that are dedicated to excellence in their medical and spiritual care of women and their unborn babies. These centers of excellence will demonstrate the financial and professional commitment necessary to provide a safe and greater-than-customary level of care for their guests. All services will be in accordance with all federal, state, and local regulations, including certification and licensure of all medical personnel. Proper insurance must be in place and all caregivers should be trained according to the generally accepted requirements of their position in the medical community. The care an individual receives in a center of excellence shall be equal to, if not better than, care that is offered in the finest medical office in their state. As we are ambassadors for Christ, it is important that services provided in any woman's pregnancy center be of the highest quality and that God's resources are handled in a manner that is above reproach. Finally, staff members in a center of excellence are sensitive for every opportunity to give testimony to God's love through Jesus Christ to those who visit their center.
